NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission

NDIS providers

It is our job to help:

- NDIS participants receive good quality services
- keep NDIS participants safe.

We also need to make sure the rules are the same across Australia.

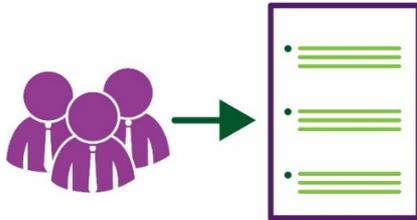

We have new rules.

These will replace the rules states and territories have used in the past.

We will use a new system for registering NDIS providers.

Registering means we will create and manage a list of NDIS providers.

NDIS providers who have already registered will move onto the new list.

We want NDIS providers who haven't registered yet to register when the NDIS starts in their area.

We will talk to NDIS providers about how to register.

Changing things for NDIS providers

We will change things for NDIS providers by:

- supporting them to provide better quality supports and services

- making sure things are done the same way across Australia

- explaining the rules

- making sure worker screening is done the same way across Australia

- teaching them how to manage complaints

- supporting them to deal with problems.

Restrictive practices are ways to quickly stop someone from hurting themselves or others.

We want NDIS providers to find better ways to help.

Behaviour Support Plans explain how to support people if their behaviour puts themselves or other people at risk.
